Purpose: Medication Assistance. The purpose of the adopted rule is to make permanent and update regulatory guidelines around the practice of medication assistance under the commission's and department's jurisdiction. The adopted rules establish criteria for medication assistance in community-based and in-home care settings in accordance with chapter 69.41 RCW. The definition for medication assistance provided in RCW 69.41.010(15) states:

"Medication assistance" means assistance rendered by a nonpractitioner to an individual residing in a community-based care setting or in-home care setting to facilitate the individual's self-administration of a legend drug or controlled substance. It includes reminding or coaching the individual to take their medication, handing the medication container to the individual, opening the individual's medication container, using an enabler, or placing the medication in the individual's hand, handing an individual their prefilled insulin syringe, transferring an individual's medication from one container to another in order to prepare an individual dose, and medication alteration, provided the individual is aware their medication is being altered.

When the adopted rule becomes effective it will replace the existing emergency rule. The adopted rule is significantly different than the current emergency rule that is in effect. However, the commission and department believe the adopted rule best reflects the current standard of care for medication assistance in community-based and in-home care settings.
