

College of Nursing

Master of Nursing (MN)

Take your nursing career to new heights with the WSU College of Nursing's MN Program.

WSU's one-year, hybrid Master of Nursing (MN) program is designed for baccalaureate-prepared nurses who are ready to shape the future of our country's healthcare and education.

About the Program:

- Students enrolled in the program choose between one of two tracks - Clinical Systems Leadership or Nurse Educator.
- Classes are delivered through a mixture of online, hybrid-based learning for didactic courses and in-person practice experiences in the specialty of choice. There are no requirements to be in-person, on-campus for learning experiences.
- The Post-Licensure MN program is offered at WSU Spokane, WSU Tri-Cities, and WSU Vancouver.
- Practicum hours must be completed in the catchment area of the campus of registration.

Scan for Additional Program Information, Application Deadlines, and to Connect with an Advisor!

Master of Nursing (MN)

Who Should Apply?

If you are a BSN-prepared nurse with an RN license in Washington, Idaho, or Oregon and are interested in advancing your job options, this program is for you! We offer two specialty tracks that will help take your career to new heights.

Specialty Tracks

- Clinical Systems Leadership - gives you the skills needed to develop quality improvement initiatives, administer operational plans, and improve healthcare outcomes at the system level
- Nurse Educator - teaches the competencies that will help you develop effective courses/curricula and inspire future generations of nurses in both academic and clinical education settings

The Job Market

- Employment opportunities for nurses with an advanced degree are expected to grow 38% between 2022 and 2032.
- Nurses are in particularly high demand in Washington, where salaries are among the highest in the country, and a 26% shortage is projected by 2035.

“ I chose WSU College of Nursing for its strong academic reputation and the flexibility of its online program, which allowed me to successfully balance work, family, and self-care. What I enjoyed most were the opportunities for interprofessional collaboration with students and the incredible professors who created positive, engaging learning environments while challenging me to grow through scholarly rigor.”

- Magdalena Stark,
CougNurse '23

